

COVID Jar

Working From Home: (This is a great opportunity to get the family involved! Kids are able to learn the importance of giving while also having fun.)

- Choose a list of “hit words” such as Corona, Virus, and COVID.
- Everyone who wants to participate designates a jar for their house and determine the time frame of the game.
- Everyone agrees on a set amount to enter into the jar for each hit word, and each time someone says any of the hit words, that chosen amount has to be entered into the jar.
- At the end of the time period, each staff member counts the amount collected and makes an online donation to the SECC in that amount.

Working From the Office:

- Choose a list of “hit words” such as Corona, Virus, and COVID.
- Place a jar in a central location of the office determine the time frame of the game.
- Chose an amount to be entered into the jar when hit words are used, and when someone catches a coworker saying one of the words, they have to hold them accountable to putting the change in the jar.
- At the end of the time period, the money can be turned into a certified check and submitted as an event donation. If enough is collected, then the office can choose a charity or several charities to be entered into a drawing. The charity chosen would be the one to donate the money to. Otherwise, it would just be a general donation.
